About AMIGOS

Amigos de las Américas is a nonprofit organization that builds young leaders who are culturally aware, college and career ready, and committed to service. We firmly believe the world needs more young leaders who are adept at working with people from diverse backgrounds and who deeply value community. We believe that when our participants take that step out of their comfort zones to do an immersive and service focused experience with us, they truly discover what they are capable of and build relationships that will have a lifetime of impact.

AMIGOS is a diverse team of passionate and talented individuals committed to making a difference. We are a results-oriented organization that operates in an entrepreneurial environment deeply invested in continuous learning and growth.
